I truly appreciate the opportunity to attend the 2015 NCACC Youth Summit in Greenville, NC. Commissioners, Alan Branson and Kay Cashion, were kind enough to give us a few moments of their time and were engaged and interested in our future endeavors. The conversation was simple and lighthearted. I also have a group photo with these commissioners that I will cherish for years to come. I learned so much at the conference and look forward to participating further here in Greensboro, NC where I reside.
